LOCAL LEGISLATION

Important Meeting of the House District Committee.

COMMISSIONERS AND HEALTH OFFICER

Need of Additional Sanitary Regulations Set Forth.

OTHER MATTERS OF INTEREST

The House District committee today gave a hearing to the Commissioners upon some pending bills relating to the sanitary condition of the city. Mr. Truesdell, in be half of the Commissioners, said the condition is bad. The death rate among the colored people of the city is 67 per cent in excess of the rate among the white people. He thought this rate could be reduced by additional ordinances. Health Officer Woodward's Views. Health Officer Woodward said there should be further laws relating to contagious diseases. Especially with regard to cholera typhus and yellow fever. The regulations relating to prevention of the spread of smallpox are insufficient. It is doubtful whether the old ordinances of the board of health would be sustained by the court if the issue were raised. The act to prevent the saread of scarlet fever and diphtheria has not worked satisfactorily For instance, there is no penalty provided for the removal of placards on infected houses. A new regulation is needed, there-fore, for those diseases also. Dr. Woodward then read to the committee the provisions of the bill, prepared by the Commissioners, which has been heretofore published in The Star.

Mr. Odell of New York, a member of the committee, called attention to the provision requiring vaccination and said the New York courts have held that a similar reguation was unconstitutional. Qr. Woodward then referred to the pro-posed regulations concerning cemeteries, which have also been published. He said which have also been published. He said it was desirable to regulate these places and its passage now is rendered necessary by the proposed location of a cemetery in the suburbs. The bill also deals with the question of crematories, no law now being in existence bearing upon this subject. The bill to regulate outhouses was also explained and commended to the committee.

More Tracks for Inauguration.

Commissioner Truesdell recommended the reporting of the resolution authorizing steam railways to lay additional tracks for the purposes of the inauguration. The resolution was favorably reported by the committee. Similar action was ordered on the resolution authorizing the Secretary of War to grant the use of public reservations and streets for the efection of stands.

Metropolitan Itailway Extension.

A bill has been introduced in the House by Mr. Babcock providing that the Metrepolitan Railroad Company be authorized to extend the lines of its underground electric railroad from the intersection of Connecticut and Florida avenues northward along Columbia road to a point on the west line of 18th street extended; provided, that the extension be completed within six months from the date of the passage of this act. The company is authorized and empowered to increase its capital stock for the purpose of making and equipping the extension of its route authorized by this act, but the amount of the capital stock so to be issued shall not exceed the cost of the making and equipment of the ex-tension herein provided for. The Metropolitan Railroad Company is authorized to issue such an additional amount of capital stock as will provide for the conversi into such stock of its outstanding certifi-cates of indebtedness, amounting to $250,-000, heretofore issued for the completion and equipment of its road.

Chairman Babcock then called up the bill for the extension of the Metropolitan rail-way from the head of Connecticut avenue to 18th street. This bill, he said, was demanded by the residents of the neighbor-

Mr. Truesdell, who was present on other business, was appealed to by the chair-man, and said the property owners, with one exception, along the proposed extension are in favor of it, and demand it as a necessity. He said the citizens for many years have asked for the extension. The neighborhood is building up rapidly, and there are no means of transit there are no means of transit.

President Harries of the Metropolitan railroad said the company was willing to make the extension. It was not demanded by the railroad company, as it will not be a paying extension for several years. If a paying extension for several years. If the bill is passed, however, the company will go to work on the extension and com-plete and equip it in conformity with the requirements of the bill.

Water Power at Great Falls.

Senator Chandler of New Hampshire appeared before the committee to advocate early action upon the bill relating to the water power at Great Falls. He said it was hoped to get the bill through the Senate this week, and he desired to prepare

The committee favorably reported the bill for the extension of the Metropolitan railroad and the Senate bill for the relief of Emmart, Dunbar & Company.

Funeral of Mrs. McGuirk.

The funeral of Mrs. Laura McGuirk, whose death resulted from a fall from the fourth story of Providence Hospital Saturday, took place yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock from her late home, 225 12th street southwest. Her body was subsequently cremated at Undertaker Lee's crematory. There was no disfigurement of the face, and no one could tell by the peaceful expression of the countenance of the dead woman as she lay in the casket that she had met a violent death. ARTISTIC PHOTOGIRAPHS THE EXCISE BOARD

Midwinter Exhibition of the Washington | Batch of Retail Licenses Issued for Sa-Club. loons.

Remarkable Work With the Camera-Some of the Specimens Five Hundred Mark-The

The midwinter exhibition of the Washington Photographic Club, which opened in the parlors of the Capital Bicycle Club Monday afternoon, has proved to be a great success, and, viewed strictly from the artistic standpoint, is better than anything of the sort seen in this city, with the single exception of the National Photographic Salon. which was held at the Cosmos Club last spring. It gives an excellent idea of the advance made in photography along artistic lines during the last half dozen years since the time when all that an amateur sought to do was to go around "snapping views."

Upward of 150 photographs, representing the best work of about a dozen members of the club, are hung upon the walls and make a very attractive display. They cover a wide range of subjects, from land-scapes and marines to fancy figures and groups, and are in all sorts of finish from the old-fashioned glaze to the most up-to-date style of printing.

In the exhibition are a number of decided novelties. One of the most interesting prints is by Mr. Charles Richards Dodge, "Fantaisie du Japon." It is a photograph of a number of fish swimming in a tank and is said to be the most success. a tank, and is said to be the most success ful picture of the sort ever taken. Many efforts have been made by the fish commis-sion people to photograph fish in water, but with comparatively little success. Mr. Dodge happened to hit it just right in the aquarium at the Atlanta exhibition, but he found that there was only one tank in the whole lot which furnished the proper conditions, and even then there was only one hour in the day when the light come hour in the day when the light came through the water in just the desired way. The result was a picture impressionistic in effect and artistic in the last degree. Mr. J. H. Harper is the chairman of the committee which made the arrangements for the exhibition, and deserves a large share of the credit for the success which has attended it. It was originally intended to hold the exhibition some time in January, but Mr. Harper was of the opinion that it would be better to hold it before the holidays, and the change of date necessitated a deal of extra labor, most of which fell upon the chairman of these written sitated a deal of extra labor, most of which fell upon the chairman of the committee. Mr. Harper has some of the prettiest and most artistic prints in the collection. Some of the best of them are studies of Mexican life and scenery, and views in the neighborhood. Mr. Harper is particularly successful with his views of buildings, and some of the print of the state of hood. Mr. Harper is particularly successful with his views of buildings, and some of the finest pictures of the Capitol, War, State and Navy buildings and other big structures about the city are from his camera.

Mr. Chas. Schaaf exhibits several charm-Mr. Chas. Schaaf exhibits several charming marines, together with a view on the Conduit road that is a perfect gem in its way, as is also a view of Deal Lake, N. J. Mr. A. S. McCoy is represented by some characteristic specimens of his best work, views of Rock Creek and Potomac scenery. Mr. C. B. Jewell has a charming view of the home of Felix Morris, the actor, and a photo-etching, which is said to be unique in its way. The usual strong contrast of black and white is gone and in the color effect suggests a pastel.

Mr. E. Lee Ferguson, whose work has won a good many medals in the past year, both in this country and abroad, shows several of the photographs that were acseveral of the photographs that were accepted at European exhibitions. He makes a specialty of portraits and fancy figures. Mr. A. J. Houghton also has some admirable portraits and examples of his best landscape and genre work. Mr. Dodge has a large exhibit of his work, strong in the line of fancy figures and genre, together with some beautiful pictures of rocks and sea around Gloucester harbor. Mr. H. E. Crook shows an artistic piece of work, a view of the White House grounds, taken the day after the great hurricane last fall. Mr. Dexter Thurber has several dainty portraits. Mr. W. C. Allen and Mr. W. F. Roberts are the only exhibitors in the Roberts are the only exhibitors in the kodak class, the latter showing a number of dainty bits portraying the humorous side of a photographer's life. Mr. Wm. Dinwiddie has several capital portraits and character studies in the exhibition.

Mr. A. J. Henry of the weather bureau, who has made some wonderful pictures of lightning and cloud effects that have placed well known as a public speaker and also as a lecturer of note, and his talk tomor-row afternoon will be one of the most en-joyable of the winter entertainments at the Catholic University.

The Number of Places Nearing the

The excise board this morning issued number of retail liquor ticenses. Up to the present time, of 554 applications filed, 471 licenses have been issued. There are 83 held up for further investigation, and these, it is expected, will all be disposed of before the new year comes in. When this is accomplished, the board will have made new record in handling the liquor question. It has taken the board two years to get thoroughly familiar with the Bquor situation, and now it has matters in such good shape that little time is lost in passing upon applications. Being members of the board of assistant assessors, the members of the excise board have a better opportu nity to study existing conditions than any other officials of the government and the experience they have gained in assessing property has been a great benefit in disposing of the liquor question.

THE CASE OF CUBA

Resolutions Discussed by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

SIMPLE DECLARATION MOST PROBABLE

No Action Likely to Be Taken Until After the Holidays.

FEELING ON THE SUBJECT

The meeting of the Senate foreign rela tions committee today resulted in very attle information as to the probable course as regards Cuba. More than the usual precautions were taken to prevent disclosures as to the happenings in the meeting being made. The one statement made was that no final action had been taken or the resolutions before the committee, all of which were discussed. The members of the committee are always expected to maintain perfect silence as to what occurs behind closed doors, but on this occasion special precautions were taken against information getting out, the members of the committee being particularly pledged not to divulge anything. The significance of this probably is that the discussion which took place indicated clearly that a resolution will be reported shortly. Three members of the committee were absent. This of itself was sufficient reason for postponing final action on a matter of such grave importance. The discussion disclosed that the Cameron resolution, providing for the recognition of the independence of Cuba, met with the greatest favor, and its adoption seemed to be foreshadowed. The committee adjourned until Fried. The committee adjourned until Fri

A Pretty Hard Struggle. Under cover there is a pretty hard struggle going on between the Cuban sympa thizers and those who think that the business interests of this country demand quiet and should not be subjected to the disturbing influences of threatened trouble with Spain. It is apparent that Cuban sympathy is very strong in the Senate committee, and the opposition is simply resorting to delay in the hope that a change may occur in the situation. The Cuban sympathizers are becoming more and more impatient and aggressive. On the House side the subcommittee having the Cuban matter in charge has a majority disposed to consider first of all the effect disposed to consider first of all the effect aggressive action would have on the business interests of the country. With this in view they are holding back as much as possible on the ground that they have no information of a reliable character on which to act. Their first course will be to endeavor to get information from the State Department. This will cause delay and give more time for developments.

It would undoubtedly be impossible for the conservative forces to delay action much longer were it not for the apprehension that interference on the part of the sion that interference on the part of the United States without clear and undoubted provocation would call forth a protest from the foreign powers, and possibly involve us with some one of them, in addition to the trouble it would provoke with Spain. If the provocation leading to intervention is indisputable, it is not at all llikely that any foreign power will take the side of Spain. It is, therefore, such a provocation that is awaited. It is held, however, by the most ardent sympathizers of Cuba that the Cameron resolution can be adopted without this government being open to criticsm of having intermeddled in a matter outside its jurisdiction. It is held that while this action might lead to war, yet it could not be said that by merely recognizing the Cuban government, without rendering it any active assistance, an inevitable provocation of hostilities had been given Spain. Going the Limit.

The majority sentiment undoubtedly is in favor of going as far as we can without becoming involved with any government save that of Spain. The chances are that somesimilar to the Cameron resolution will be adopted by the Senate committee Friday, or at the next meeting thereafter. but it is not now thought that action will be had in either house until after the holiby both houses, to take place from the 22d to the 5th of January, it would be dangerous to take such action pending that as might bring about a hostile situation during the time that Congress would be scat-tered and in no condition to meet the there may be a change in the situation in Cuba which would influence the action of Congress, but if there is no change or is an increase of installar in the condition to meet the emergency. Increase of irritation little doubt is felt that the Senate will act soon after Congress reassembles. Action by the Senate would probably render further delay by the House mpossible.

If the Senate committee should report resolution and let it lie over until after the holiday recess, it would serve as a notice to Spain that if she did not do something toward the pacification of Cuba meanwhile she would have to confront a certain condition of affairs after the reassembling of Congress January 5.

The House committe do not contemplate any sort of action before the recess.
